

HEALTH SITUATION IN COUNTY IS NOW WELL IN HAND

County Health Officer Says Diphtheria Is on the Decline in County and All Health Matters in Good Condition.

Diphtheria which has been epidemic in some parts of the county during the past month, is now in very satisfactory condition and on the decline according to an official announcement made this morning by Dr. B. F. Reynolds, Maysville County Health Officer.

Dr. Reynolds' statement is as follows: "The diphtheria situation in the county has very materially improved in the last two weeks. No new cases have been reported in the last week. All cases known to the Health Department have been quarantined and these cases are not permitted to return to school or go out in public until two examinations of the secretions of the throat have been made in state laboratory and found to contain no diphtheria germs."

"A member of the staff of the State Board of Health visited our Health Department last week and was pleased with the manner in which contagious diseases are being handled. Last week the throats of about ninety school children were examined to find if possible any diphtheria carriers in the schools where the disease has been prevalent. There were two rooms of the Washington school and one room at First ward school. All cultures were found to be negative."

BIG WILL CASE IS STARTED IN COURT

Attempt To Break the Will of the Late Emma Stewart Is Begun in Circuit Court.

One of the most celebrated cases to be tried in the Mason Circuit Court in recent months is the Stewart will case which was started in that court this morning. The style of the suit is Elizabeth Haughaboo vs. The First-Standard Bank and Trust Company as executors of Emma Stewart, deceased.

In the suit the plaintiff states that Mrs. Stewart died leaving as her only heirs the plaintiff in the case and her husband. She claims that the paper probated as the last will and testament of Mrs. Stewart was not the true will. She claims that at the time of the drawing of the paper the deceased was not of sound mind and memory and because of protracted illness was mentally incapacitated. She also charges that she was persuaded and coerced into signing the paper by undue influence. The prayer is that the will be set aside and held for naught.

Slattery and Rees are attorneys for the plaintiff while Worthing, Cochran Browning & Reed and James M. Collins are defending the will. Some forty of fifty witnesses are to be heard and it is expected that the most of this week will be consumed in the trial of the case.

CAPTAIN BLAMED FOR DISASTER IN WHICH 11 DROWNED

Captain Is Blamed By Engineer and Fireman for Sinking of Margaret in Which Eleven Lost Their Lives Saturday Night.

Eleven is the total of the dead in the horrible river disaster near Augusta Saturday evening about 6 o'clock when the small steam tow boat Margaret used by the government in the construction of the Chilo dam sank.

The steamer was on her way to Augusta from the dam with twenty-one persons aboard. The men were returning to their homes in Augusta from work while other members of the party were going to Augusta to attend church Sunday morning. When only a short distance below the Bracken county town, Engineer Dykes noticed that the hull was leaking and he at once set all the boat's pumps to work and notified the captain to slacken her speed. In only a few minutes the steamer listed to the Ohio side and she sank within three minutes trapping those who were in the cabin and only those on deck having an opportunity to escape.

The dead are: Mrs. H. V. Pittman, wife of Major H. V. Pittman, in charge of construction of Dam 34, Chilo, Ohio.

Virginia Pittman, 8 daughter of Major Pittman and wife.

Mary Pittman, 6 another daughter.

Captain George J. Hart, 61, commander of the Margaret, Augusta.

James Coffey, 23 deckhand, son-in-law of Captain Hart, Augusta.

Mrs. Helen Coffey, 17, cook, daughter of Captain Hart, Augusta.

Frank Hines, 21, deckhand, Nashville, Tenn.

William King, 65, night watchman on the Margaret, Augusta.

Lewellen Hiles, 38, mechanic at Dam 34, Augusta.

Thomas Sellers, 30, mechanic at Dam 34, Augusta.

Garrett Dewey Smith, 21, mechanic at Dam 34, Augusta.

The coroner of Bracken county held an inquest over the body of Lewellen Hiles, the only body that had been recovered and from the evidence of the engineer and the fireman the coroner's jury returned a verdict that the accident was caused by the negligence of Captain Hart, who drowned in the steamer. Both the engineer and fireman testified that they had on several occasions warned the captain that the boat's seams should be filled but they said he had let them go unnoticed. Only on last Friday the engineer said he warned Captain Hart that the seams had so spread that the steamer could not safely carry much of a load.

MRS. DENNIS FITZGERALD DIES SUDDENLY SATURDAY

Aged Citizen Succumbs to Heart Attack at Third Street Home—Funeral Will Be Held Tuesday Morn.

Mrs. Kate Fitzgerald, widow of the late Dennis Fitzgerald, died at her home at Market and Third streets about 8 o'clock Saturday evening from an attack of heart trouble from which she had been suffering for years.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was in her usual good health until about an hour before her death, talking to her daughters in the living room, when she was stricken. She appeared to recover and was enabled to go to her room on the second floor. She remained conscious until the end came.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was born in Ireland but came to Maysville more than fifty years ago from Baltimore, Md. She was a most loving woman who had a great host of friends.

She is survived by five children, Mrs. P. J. Murphy, Mrs. M. F. Coughlin and Miss Nellie Fitzgerald, of this city, and Mr. D. A. Fitzgerald, of Mannington, W. Va., and Mr. Charles Fitzgerald, of St. Louis, Mo.

Funeral will be from St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and burial will be made in the Washington cemetery.

GOVERNOR HAS MADE NO DECISION ON EXTRA SESSION

Morrow Says Matter of Redistricting the State Has Not Been Considered, Special Session Urged.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 20. — Governor Morrow, in an interview Saturday, said he has come to no decision in regard to calling the Legislature in special session.

"A special session of the Legislature," he said, "has been urged for many reasons, including adequate financing of the road problem, relief for graded school districts in the matter of local taxation, the right of counties to assume by bonds damages to property by reason of the construction of locks and dams and for many other special and general purposes. But the question of redistricting the state has not been considered by myself nor has it been urged upon me by anyone."

"As to the calling of a special session, I have made no determination and before I do I shall give it the careful consideration which I think such a subject demands. If a special session of the Legislature is called at all it will be for the good of Kentucky and the welfare of its people."

The impression has been general that Governor Morrow will call a special session for the consideration of the tax questions as well as for the redistricting of the state.

VETERAN CELEBRATES HIS 77th ANNIVERSARY

Former Maysvillian, Veteran of Old Sixteenth, Celebrates Birthday Among Relatives.

The Booneville (Mo.) Daily Republican says:

"G. W. Drennen, Civil War veteran and Cooper county pioneer, celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday with a dinner attended by about twenty relatives and friends at the boarding house of Mrs. Minnie Hirsch today noon. Mr. Drennen was a member of Company H of the Sixteenth Kentucky veteran volunteer infantry, of the Twenty-seventh Kentucky Regiment.

Mr. Whitlow of Blackwater, and his wife, were guests at the birthday dinner.

Mr. Drennen has a family composed of his wife and six sons while one daughter and one son are dead. Five of his living sons reside in Cooper county and the other lives in St. Louis.

Mr. Drennen recently visited his old home near Maysville, Ky., and had his photograph taken in front of the old school house where he had mastered the three R's more than sixty years ago. He is one of the most highly respected and beloved of Cooper county citizens.

Southern Methodist Church Is Making Preparations for an Elaborate Observance of Christmas

Christmas will be observed this year at the First Methodist Church, South, in an elaborate pageant called "The First Christmas." The pageant will be given Thursday night by members of the church and Sunday school. The public is cordially invited.

The entertainment is a portrayal of the birth of Christ. It is a series of striking tableaux accompanied by quotations from the Scripture on the birth of the Christ. There will be also beautiful Christmas music. The soloists will be Mrs. Andrew Carr and Mrs. Clyde Wilson who will spend Christmas with her parents the Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Welburne.

The gifts which the three wise men will bring to the Christ child in the manger will be substantial gifts which the Sunday school has donated to the First District Penny Lunch as its Christmas offering.

Miss Hilda Threlkeld is director of the pageant, Mrs. Wallace Reese has charge of the music and Miss Frances Barbour will preside at the organ.

The program follows:

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE GREAT SERVICE.

Senator Harding's address before the Ohio Federation of the Child Conservation League justifies the faith of those who steadfastly have regarded him as a big, forward-looking statesman.

During the campaign Senator Harding announced himself to be in favor of a Department of Public Welfare in the Government, and what he said at the federation meeting emphasizes his conviction of the necessity for such a department.

It is true that this generation owes to the children of the nation the best possible start and the fullest endowment of physical and mental stamina to assume the responsibilities of citizenship. Each generation owes this debt to its children.

But, after all, as the Senator pointed out, the state neither can nor should assume to take the place of the mother. This is a developing tendency even in America. Nothing of that sort is desired, though practical and helpful legislation along this line is necessary.

The teacher, the school, the college have their important places in the social scheme, but it is to the mother that we must continue to look for that co-operation which absolutely is essential to the development of the mind, character and body of the child. The Senator is right in declaring that this responsibility of the mother never safely may be surrendered. Society should do its utmost in the discharge of its children, but its efforts never can succeed beyond a certain point without the intelligent and loving co-operation of the mothers of the nation. There is the opportunity for great service. A Department of Public Welfare, broad in its scope, but assuming particularly to function in the interests of the nation's children, will be welcomed. But, as the Senator properly says, nothing must interfere with the development of the common schools, the community agencies which offer so much to the children if backed by the co-operation and support of citizens. Democracy here is vital. Bureaucracy, or any suspicion of it, never must disturb, hamper or interfere with this best hope of those who may not have the advantages of special instruction.

The care of its children must continue to be the nation's greatest responsible service.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BUY THEM IN ABUNDANCE.

Out of the public view, with splendid perseverance, an army of devoted men and women are fighting one of the greatest battles of modern or ancient times. This army does not march with banners flaunting proudly, stirred by the echoing reverberations of trumpet calls! Its work is done quietly, with patience, with persistence; there is no pause nor truce in the conflict.

At the Christmas season appear those seals bearing the double-barred cross, and the public is invited to buy them. This is the principal means of financing the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis League. They should be bought in abundance.

In this country there are 1,000,000 active tubercular cases, and no one can estimate the number of arrested or inactive cases. This menace may be very near to you; it is near to some one at all times. You should buy these stamps for the nobler reason, but if that fails to impress any individual, he will do well to consider that in buying the Christmas seals he is making an investment for personal security.

Tuberculosis walks with us every day. Tomorrow it may take up its abode with us. Still the death toll from this plague in the United States amounts to 150,000 a year. In a way this is a wanton waste of life, for tuberculosis is a curable disease. To provide for cures and the prevention of germ transmission the league offers the Christmas seals for sale. It is fighting a monster which is relentless, which resides in damp and dark places, but which often creeps into the sunny palaces of the more fortunate.

Think, and buy these symbols of a great and gentle cause.

AN HONEST CONFESSION.

Those who used to sing a hymn now seldom heard aspired to play on a "harp of a thousand strings."

The harp of which the League of Nations advocates continue to play has but a single string, but it vibrates continually. It has a mournful sound and conveys the message that the United States committed self-destruction in several keys when it voted to remain out.

Almost every day, however, brings forth something which enables us to realize more fully how sensible we were. The Courier-Journal, one of the strong pro-League papers of the South, for instance, has this to say, which is very ingenious, not to say innocent:

"Other countries have dispatched their most brilliant men to the League Assembly at Geneva to safeguard their interests. State departments all over the world are maneuvering, pulling wires, laying traps and scheming for their own advantage. America is in the unique position of being excluded."

Excluded from what? From "maneuvering, pulling wires, laying traps, and scheming." A most inviting diversion, and one, considering our experience in Paris, for which we are eminently qualified. What American will not hang his head and blush when he thinks what a piece of folly we committed in not choosing to play a part in the delightful and elevating game that is now going on in Geneva?

Application of the referendum to declarations of war as condition precedent to international settlement through the arbitrament of arms is certainly a big idea; so big, in fact, that it will need leisurely mastication to secure wholesome assimilation.

Seattle Post-Intelligencer—President-Elect Harding already has given proof that he purposes performing his duties in his own way, unmindful of the influence of any group or individuals.

Washington Post—No matter how many storms Harding encounters, they are not storms of protests.

MONROE DOCTRINE IS SAVEST LEAGUE
FOR AMERICANS.

Suggestion Is Made That the Nations
Of the Western Hemisphere Should Stand Solid Behind Doctrine.

Washington, D. C. — "The sanest association for the peoples of the Western Hemisphere is an association which will adopt, support, and defend the principles enunciated in the Monroe Doctrine," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Foreign Minister Pueyrredon, of Argentina, head of the Argentine delegation to the league of nations assembly, has withdrawn his country from the league and is a sadly disillusioned man. According to dispatches he hopes to align Argentina with the United States in forming a new association of nations to supplant the league. Senator Pueyrredon found the same attitude of mind on the part of the big powers of Europe that existed a century ago when the Monroe Doctrine was promulgated, growing out of the reaction engendered by the Holy Alliance of the mad Emperor Alexander I of Russia. If Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and others of the Latin American Republics will officially approve the principles proclaimed by Monroe the peace of the Western Hemisphere will be preserved indefinitely and the inhabitants of the two Americas need have little fear of military aggression or political interference from the belligerent and intriguing powers of Europe and the Orient.

"The Monroe Doctrine contains not the slightest hint of a hegemony of the United States. Though circumstances have in the past compelled us, through self-protection, to acquire certain territories to the south, our policy is not imperialistic. We deem the independence and equal rights of the smallest and weakest member of the family of nations entitled to as much respect as those of the greatest empire," declared Mr. Root, in 1906, "and we deem the observance of that respect the chief guarantee of the weak against the oppression of the strong. We neither claim nor desire any rights, or privileges, or powers that we do not freely concede to every American republic." It is only that "chronic wrong-doing, or an impotence which results in a general loosening of the ties of civilized society" which may in America, as elsewhere, ultimately require intervention by some civilized nation, and in the Western Hemisphere the adherence of the United States to the Monroe Doctrine may force the United States, however reluctantly, in flagrant cases of such wrong-doing or impotence, to the exercise of an international police power," to quote Theodore Roosevelt.

"Hamilton, in the 'Federalist,' advocated the establishment of independent Latin American Republics, so that these two continents should form a political system of their own, independent of that of Europe." Jefferson, in 1823, made application of the same theory. Washington favored the idea. Their views were prophetic. Since Charlemagne divided Europe among his three sons, continental Europe has been broiled in war and steeped in intrigues, with Great Britain playing one combination against another. "Our first and fundamental maxim should be, ever to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe; our second, never to suffer Europe to inter-meddle with our affairs."

WIFE OF DEAD HUNGER
STRIKE MAYOR HERE

The arrival of Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, wife of the hunger strike mayor of Cork, who recently died in a London prison for the cause of Irish freedom, gave the supporters of the cause in America an opportunity to stage a great demonstration when her boat docked at New York. Mrs. MacSwiney comes to testify before the unofficial committee of 100, which is in session in this country. Mrs. MacSwiney is only 23 years old.

GIRLS TO HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN HOME FOR HOLIDAYS.

Memphis, Tenn.—On account of the large number of girl students returning to their homes in Texas for a holiday recess, the Missouri Pacific railroad will operate a special train out of Memphis, on a date yet to be announced, to accommodate this traffic. These young women will start from Nashville on a special train, and when it arrived in Memphis it will be delivered to the Missouri Pacific and run through to Fort Worth.

Ledger Service—Efficiency.

wrote Jefferson to Monroe in 1823. And in the Monroe Doctrine which was proclaimed two months later, Monroe said: "With the Governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principle, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the united states." It is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent without endangering our peace and happiness, nor can anyone believe that our southern brethren, if left to themselves, would adopt is of their own accord."

"Senator Pueyrredon has had firsthand experience with the diplomacy of Europe. Possibly the eyes of his countrymen will now be opened to an appreciation of the Monroe Doctrine. Why not strengthen the support of that doctrine?"

BI GALIMONY SETTLEMENT IN COAST DIVORCE CASE.

San Francisco, Calif. — One of the largest alimony settlements ever made in the local divorce courts was confirmed by Judge Shortall when he granted a decree to William Outhout, retired mining engineer, from Helen Adelaide Outhout on grounds of extreme cruelty. According to the property arrangement, Mrs. Outhout, who lives at Victoria, B. C., received $200,000 in settlement of all claims of alimony, in addition to many thousands of dollars the exact amount of which was not revealed, which she received under a prenuptial agreement. The breach in the couple's lives resulted from Outhout wanting to live here, and his wife preferring Victoria.

BIG U. S. DRUNK SEEN AS LIQUOR SOLUTION.

Washington, Dec. 17. — Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee suggested today that the cheapest method for taxpayers would be to let all bonded whiskey in the country be withdrawn—and "let the toppers go on one grand drunk and get through with it." This, he said, would obviate the need for new tax legislation, appropriations, guards, and the like.

Progress and Efficiency

We are anxious for the business and accounts of all, but we do not want you to think of us simply as a place to deposit your money. It is our aim to give to our customers the most correct, helpful, prompt, progressive, efficient and up-to-date service possible.

The leading Banks of the country have adopted the plan of supplying their customers with statements and this new plan seems to be working much more satisfactorily than the old system. Under the old system, a customer must leave his book to be balanced, which requires time and makes it impossible to immediately re-deliver it to them. Under the new system there will be waiting until tomorrow or next week before getting a full statement of your account. It, together with all your cancelled checks, will be ready for you any time you call. This means an additional convenience and saving of time to you.

We will continue to issue pass books to all depositors and keep the accounts of those who wish same in the old way, our sole object being to serve our customers to their best interests and in the way they wish us to.

New York Letter

New York. — The last days of this year and the first of the new will be interesting ones on Broadway. These productions are announced to open during the week with everyone of them promising unusual merit, "Mary Rose," Belasco's production of "Debutante," and the "The Beggar's Opera." Ruth Chatterton will star in the Barrie play, and Lionel Atwill, with rather an imposing cast, in "Debutante." Rose Coghlan and Elsie MacKaye are featured in his support. Arthur Hopkins is presenting "The Beggar's Opera." Zona Gale's dramatization of her own story, "Miss Lulu Bett," will probably be a fourth play to be put on during that same week.

When John Gabriel, 1220 Second avenue, next sets forth to take a drink, he'll hoist the bottle in one hand and a fire extinguisher in the other. Somebody made him a present the other day. It purported to be a bottle of whisky. John is not accustomed to treating bottles lightly. So he turned it up and let it go down his throat. Then he lay down behind a pile of lumber near the Harlem river for a nap. Suddenly he jumped with a shriek and shouted that he was being burned up. Naturally under the circumstances he ran to the river and in a determined effort to quench the flames which he was sure were consuming his insides, jumped in. It was a 3 foot leap but he made it all safely, and was paddling around looking for the wettest spot when two patrolmen rowed out and prevented him from rescuing himself. The sent him to the hospital to be soothed.

If your past will bear investigation, there is no need any longer to be lonely and alone in New York City—yes, this is an entirely proper suggestion. The R. A. D.—Registered Acquaintance Dance Club—will take care of your vacant hours and heart. It has chaperones who take your credentials and pass upon your application. When you are duly approved, you are notified and may then choose an evening and be "checked" for it. The rest is simple. "Your membership is your introduction" to any man or girl in the room. There's no "up-lift" about it; now "welfare" work; no anything but a dance club and a chance to belong to it. It isn't a charity. The members pay their way—and seem to get their money's worth.

If one would be chosen as wife, every little moment of one's life would well be watched. This proves it: Last May a Brooklyn widower advertised for a housekeeper who "would look after a little child as well as cook." He had 75 applicants in two days. But he hired the third who came. And "The reason I hired her," he said the other day, "was because she did not ring the door bell. When I asked her why she omitted this, she said she did not wish to disturb the baby. Three weeks later she became the baby's stepmother."

The oldest New York county woman to have been admitted to citizenship is Miss Mathie Malkin, of the Presbyterian Home. She is 82 years old and came here from England in 1854, but said she didn't think it was worth while to take out citizenship papers until she could vote. She went to the court house the other day, escorted by the matron of the home and a political district captain.

"The Post Office," a lyric tragedy by Rabindranath Tagore, made a sufficient impression on the critics when it opened at the Garrick last week to satisfy the worshippers of the Oriental poet. The greater part of the audience appeared at least, to know just what it all meant. Lillian Jago's voice is the one thing upon which they all seemed agreed when it had ended. It is lovely, vibrant and colorful. "Sacrifice," the other Tagore play on the same bill, had quite a different reception and deservedly so. It may be very well as an Oriental composition, but to the Occidental mind, it seemed confused, formless and futile. It's a mixture of philosophical and religious ideas, vague conflicts between love and duty, Brahmin bigotry, and feminine psychology. As I said, it's confusing.

One of the most unusual exhibitions in town is the wood carving of Rafael Laoiza, a Colombian cabinet-maker, who spent ten years in completing the three pieces of furniture in the exhibit. It is being shown in the Bush Terminal building, and whether it could be called art or not, it is worth seeing. One of the pieces is a chair, and half over the arm is a woman's corset. Stockings and shoes lay on the inlaid stand in front of the chair, and on a table are other articles of apparel, all carved of wood, and all remarkably "life-like." A big hat, made to look like straw; trimmed in a wreath of roses, two tall plumes, a big bow, and two hat pins, is one of the striking items. Laoiza has brought his wife and ten children to this country and hopes to support and educate them with his carvings.

ILLITERACY UNDER BAN BY REPUBLICAN SOLONS

Will Make Crusade of Effort to Teach $8,000,000 Who Cannot Speak Or Write English.

Washington, D. C. — Development of the needs of education in order to blot out what is regarded as the greatest blot on American civilization—the prevalence of illiteracy—is to be one of the chief objects of the new Republican Administration.

It is felt in the Republican Congress that this country has just concluded two great moral reforms. By one the liquor traffic has been suppressed and by the other it has been admitted that the intelligence and character of women are needed at the ballot box no less than those of men. It is believed that the men and women who have brought about these reforms will seek another triumph in assisting intelligent democracy.

From the time when in 1655 the Dutch in New Amsterdam provided for elementary schools at public expense and Harvard College was founded in 1636, the work of education building has gone on until it was thought that we had provided for the universal training of the country. But the 8,000,000 of those who cannot read and write the English language, augmented by the millions who came to our shores every year until the World War from other countries have caused the Republicans to prepare to do something by way of remedy.

The war brought out the astonishing fact that 24.5 per cent. of our enlisted men could not read a newspaper or write to those at home. Vast numbers of immigrants from Southern Europe and from Russia and Poland have come here without any knowledge of our language or the spirit of our institutions and we have had in consequence May day outrages, I. W. W. depredations and maiming of the innocent by bomb-throwers who have had no other thought than insult to our form of government, according to Republican legislators.

Hence the determination to face the problem and meet it with permanent and practical remedy. No attempt will be made to pass it by, as in the present administration, in the hope that all will come out well under the theory that our institutions will overcome every evil by letting it alone.

It is likely that it will be provided that the school houses under Federal jurisdiction be utilized at night for the teaching of the immigrants and the illiterate and that they be compelled to learn our language and be compelled to pass an examination as to the spirit of our institutions. All immigrants are likely to be made to register and to report ever so often until they have done so.

The discussion has already brought out some interesting facts. In the South 30.4 per cent. of the negroes are illiterate. The average pay of teachers is $635 per annum. In Tennessee in the elementary schools $257 is paid, which is less than the amount given for feeding prisoners in the jails. The latter thrive on 75 cents per day. The South is improving, for in 1896 North Carolina spent $1,200,000 for education and last year spent $11,000,000, and Tennessee in 1902 spent $1,800,000 and last year spent $9,000,000; but today the West spends four times as much as the South, and New York and New England spend three times as much as the South on each child in school. Yet illiteracy is prevalent throughout the country.

The Republican remedy will probably lie in the enlargement of the capacity of the Bureau of Education. Its powers are now restricted to the dissemination of information and suggestion, but it is likely to be assisted from which to radiate propaganda for educational needs.

WISCONSIN WOMAN GETS FIRST NURSE APPOINTMENT.

First Graduate of Nursing School To Get Official Appointment Is Wisconsin Girl.

Miss Harriett Decker Noyes, of Manitowish, Wisconsin, is the first graduate of the Army School of Nursing to be appointed in the Army Nurse Corps. She will enter the corps with the relative rank of Second Lieutenant.

Miss Noyes, who has an A. B. degree from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, is the daughter of the Reverend H. A. Noyes, of Heppner, Oregon. She entered the Army School of Nursing August 22, 1918, in response to the urgent appeal made for young women to take up nursing to meet war needs. She began her course at

How To Keep in Good Condition

Sound nerves, a clear head, good digestion, strength, endurance and general health depend upon clean blood. If the kidneys and bladder do not properly perform their functions, the blood cannot be clean and pure, for these organs filter and cast out the waste matter, impurities and poisonous acids that cause nervousness, rheumatic pains, backache, languidness, sore muscles, swollen joints, stiffness, puffiness under the eyes and other weakening symptoms.

WAS RELIEVED AT ONCE. "I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for nearly 8 years. Had one very bad spell about 5 years ago. Was confined to bed for 4 or 5 days, unable to turn without help. I commenced using Foley Kidney Pills and can truly say I was relieved at once. I take pleasure in recommending your kidney pills to all who have kidney trouble." John Heath, Michigan Bar, California.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

soothe, strengthen, heal overworked, weak and diseased kidneys and bladder. When these organs are working properly, the blood is cleaned and purified, appetite returns, good digestion follows, refreshing sleep is possible, health and strength come again. They have brought relief to thousands of men and women who thought old age was coming on before it was due.

Camp Wheeler, Georgia, and was later transferred to Camp Lee, Virginia. Her experience in women's and children's diseases was obtained from affiliating courses at the Children's Hospital, Washington, D. C., Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, and the Lying-In Hospital, New York City. In April, 1919, she was transferred to the Walter Reed Hospital for final instruction and practice. As a member of the Army Nurse Corps she will remain for some time at the Walter Reed Hospital in a position of responsibility, but later will be eligible for transfer to one of the army hospitals in the United States or Island Possessions.

Major General P. C. Harris, Adjutant General of the Army, in commenting upon the future good to the Army of the School for Nursing, said, "Another army school is thus added to the list already functioning one hundred per cent. for an America better trained both for war and for peace."

Results That Last Are What Appeal to Maysville People.

Kidney sufferers in Maysville want more than temporary relief. They want results that last—Results like Mr. Lynch tells about. His was a thorough test. Four years is a long time. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test and stood it well.

Why experiment with an untried medicine?

People here in Maysville have shown the way. Read the story of W. H. Lynch, shoemaker, E. Third St. He says: "My kidneys were weak and sluggish. At one time the action of my kidneys stopped altogether. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time the action of my kidneys became normal. I kept on taking them and they completely relieved me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lynch had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ACTUAL POPULATION FIGURES ANNOUNCED.

Washington, Dec. 18. — Population of the United States on January 1, 1919, as enumerated in the fourteenth census, was 105,708,771 as announced Friday by the Census Bureau for certification to Congress as the basis for reapportionment of the members of the House of Representatives from the various states.

These are the final population figures of the country and states, the statistics announced early in October having been the preliminary compilations.

The population of Kentucky as announced is 2,416,630. Ohio's population is 5,759,394.

A FLIVVER

CATCHES GRASSHOPPERS.

Fred Hawkins, a farmer in Southern Thayer county, has discovered a new use for the flivver. Grasshoppers are plentiful in his section and it is necessary to kill them off now before they can lay their eggs. He attaches to the front of his Ford car a trap-like device made on the principle of a vacuum cleaner. It takes in a thirty-foot swath and will function at any speed up to forty miles an hour. He has cleaned up 500 acres of alfalfa by this device and gathered in about three-quarters of a ton of hoppers in the once over. — Sioux City Tribune.
